

New Avatar Feature: “My Views”

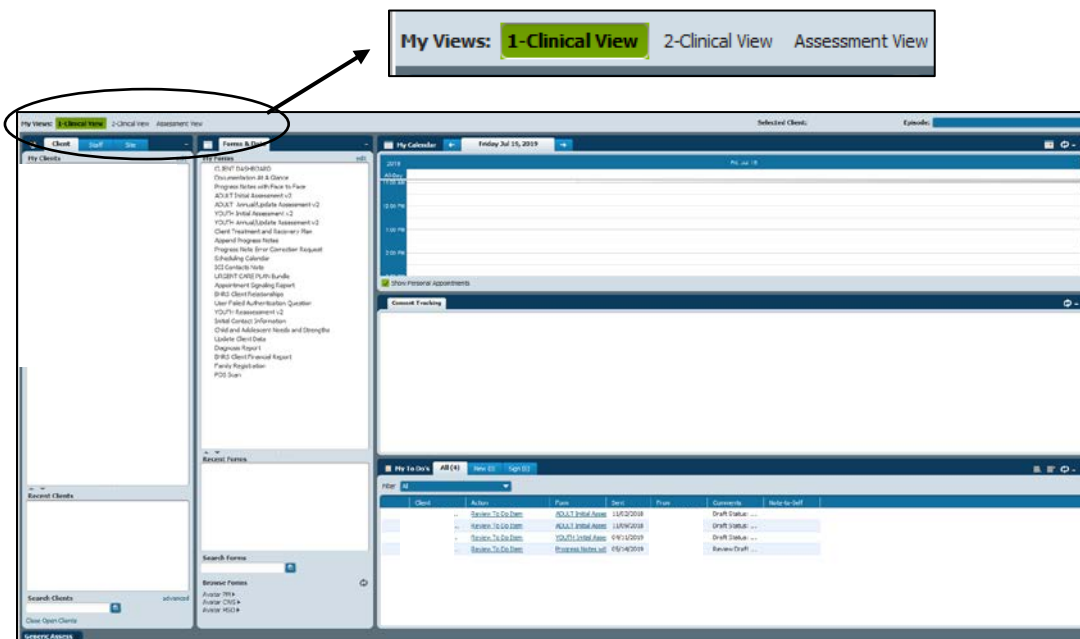

BHRS-IT and Quality Management would like to announce a new feature in Avatar called “My Views.” When you open Avatar, depending on your assigned user role (Clinician, Admin, Billing, Call Center, etc.), the look of your Avatar will change, and you may have access to different “view” tabs next to “My Views”.

Each different “view” tab next to “My Views” includes a set of widgets. The view that you are in will be highlighted and you will see specific widgets with info based on the view you have selected. You can switch between the views with a simple click.

Always verify that you are in the correct episode. The information in the widgets will change based on what episode you are in. Avatar will default to the most recent episode.

Here is a look at some of the “My Views” options that you may have access to:

Here is a look at some of the New Widgets you may have access to:

- Consent Tracking:

- o This new widget will tell you what consents are current for each specific client when you click their name from the Clients list.

The screenshot shows a software interface with several panels. On the left, there's a 'My Clients' list with 'Sample, Client' highlighted. In the center, there's a 'Forms & Data' panel. On the right, there's a 'My Calendar' and a 'Consent Tracking' table. The table has columns: Patient Name, Consent_Type, Release for Name/Agency, Release for, Initial Date of Consent, Restricted Status, and Consent Exp Date. The entry for 'Sample, Client' is circled in black. Below the table, there's a 'My To Do's' section. A separate window below the screenshot shows a detailed view of the consent information for 'Sample, Client'.
