

See, Stop, Prevent Elder and Dependent Adult Abuse

Sign up for new trainings to learn about signs and symptoms of elder abuse

For every case of reported elder abuse, another 24 go unreported. Get trained to help stop this cycle.

Older adult abuse has been on the rise.

As San Mateo County's older adult population continues to grow, there is more need than ever to learn how to protect older and dependent adults and help ensure everyone is able to grow older safely.

San Mateo County is offering free trainings on how to prevent older and dependent adult abuse.

Trainings will be tailored to meet the needs of your audience. Join us to learn about:

- Signs and symptoms of elder abuse
- Signs of financial abuse in adult populations
- Senior safety and avoiding scams
- Mandated reporter training

The Elder and Dependent Adult Protection Team (EDAPT) is a partnership between the San Mateo County's Health System's Aging and Adult Services, District Attorney's Office, and County Counsel's Office.

The initiative is raising awareness on how to prevent and protect dependent and older adults from abuse in San Mateo County.

It's everyone's business
