Correspondence, Announcements & Public Comment	Pat Willard – In the Director’s Newsletter, there is a discussion about the findings from the CWCRT pilot program. I wanted to point out that impact stated a reduction in calls for mental health services. However most cities do not code in the same fashion e.g. welfare check, 5150, etc. So with that purpose, the findings do not rationalize why the data is the way it is.
Presentation: May is Mental Health Month Presented by Sylvia Tang, BHRS Office of Diversity & Equity	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Mental Health Month is a national observance throughout the month of May. In our county we focus on three areas: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> A proclamation to give our community space to provide their voice and advocate for mental and substance use services Partnering with different organizations to host events Communication campaign to reach a broader audience Although it is mental health month, we focus on substance use as well. The theme for this year is Mental Health on a Continuum. A continuum can refer to either a spectrum or a continuum of care e.g. inpatient, outpatient, residential, etc. For the proclamation, Dr. Jei Africa helped us open up the stage, and then we had four speakers: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Terrell Fortune from the Alcohol and Other Drugs residential team, Renee Harris, recipient of commission’s Hall of Fame award Cynthia Castro, a Health Ambassador

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Charo Martinez, Health Ambassador Program Coordinator for BHRS' Office of Diversity & Equity • Some fun swag we have this year include octopus plushies, water bottles, bucket hats, stickers, meditation journals, a continuum guide. We get a good mix of physical and digital materials for promotion. • We invite you to attend an event, help spread the word, and/or attend a training. • Find our events and resources at SMCHealth.org/MHM.
Presentation Public Comments, Questions & Responses	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Leti Bido – I just want to express my gratitude to Sylvia Tang for more and more collaboration every year. There's a lot that is being done, and we are very grateful for your leadership throughout the years. • Jean Perry – Word is definitely getting out there because one of the volunteer organizations in Millbrae requested more info on mental health so we have Be Sensitive, Be Brave coming to the organization.
Presentation: New SUD Providers Presented by Clara Boyden, Deputy Director of Behavioral Health & Recovery Services' Alcohol & Other Drugs and Natalia Rojas, Behavioral Health & Recovery Services Analyst	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • One of the things BHRS' Alcohol and Other Drugs services does it make sure that people convicted of a DUI take the DUI education program. • We monitor those programs and make sure they comply with statewide standards. • We're here today to talk about two new providers that we have identified and want to get support from the commission. • San Mateo ranks 8th lowest in DUI rates. • Data shows 391 people per 100,000 drivers, and the state average is 683. • Types of DUI programs <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Wet and Reckless: 12-hour education program ○ First Offender Program <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ 3-month program: 32 hours ▪ 6-month program: 45 hours ▪ 9-month program: 62 hours ○ Multiple offender program <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ 12-month: 71 hours ▪ 18-month: 77 hours • Each program has varying fees, and each are paid by the client. • In order to obtain a state license to provide these DUI services, the Board of Supervisors must recommend each agency for DUI licensure, and therefore BHRS AOD is recommending to the Board of Supervisors to expand the number of DUI providers in San Mateo County offering the above DUI programs. And we seek the support of the Behavioral Health Commission and the AOD community for these new agency services. Vote to support the DUI Providers was unanimously approved. ► M/S/C Nichols/ Keohane
Presentation Public Comments, Questions & Responses	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Sid Palani: Seems like this is to solve an access problem. It looks like virtual services are available. What is the reason that those in more rural regions are unable to take the classes? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ A: There are currently no multiple offender classes in SMC. The thing about MOP courses is that they need to be taken in the same county that you received the offense. Both Free at Last and Sitike are at capacity for First Offender Programs. • Do clients bare the cost fully? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ A: Yes, but it's up to the discretion of the collaborative courts to do financial assessments. • John Butler: Do the clients in these programs have opportunities for support with their recovery? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ A: Yes; they do not only look at criminal charges, but they also look at opportunities for support

Director's Report presented by Dr. Jei Africa	See attached slides. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • We've finally launched our Mobile Crisis media campaign which was a very heavy lift. • All departments have submitted budgets to the county. • We are waiting for Governor's May Revise to see if some commitments and priorities stated earlier this year will continue. • We find out more by end of this week whether we will need to make more pivots. • A lot of things happening in the justice-involved areas of our work. • We are figuring out what was the evidence-based model to adapt what we for those in justice system. • Executive team is doing alignment work. We don't want to do time limited work. We want work to not feel reactive to changes.
Public Comments on Director's Report	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Q: When can we expect to hear more of the new priorities? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◦ A: Within the next month. Ernst & Young has been working on a report. • Q: Curious to hear results of MH pilot. In comparison to other cities in our county, what needs to be done for improvement? Is it funding? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◦ A: We got the Justice Advocacy grant to expand the cities, but those are all time limited. At least for the cities that have piloted, it looks like they have put it in their city budget. • Q: How are they related? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◦ A: StarVista is providing parts of the clinician through the CWCRT. Many cities now have hired the clinicians in their cities. We're doing a lot of coordination with law enforcement to encourage folks to use 988 if it's not a medical emergency. • Q: Is there a vision where 911 plays a triage role? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◦ A: The challenge is that the 911 dispatchers operate in a different state guideline. The steering committee talks about all this. We're just trying very hard to coordinate within different rules, funding, and systems.

There are so many components that contribute to community members receiving trainings tailored to them, and leaving the trainings uplifted and empowered, recharged with resilience, able to support those around them. It is fabulous to have expert facilitators for the trainings. It is even more exciting that community members with lived experience are being trained and are co-leading the trainings. These trainings are customized by language and location where they are held, recognizing the many factors that contribute to learners feeling safe and supported. I have hosted trainings in different community groups with whom I am associated. It is amazing to see stigma decrease, to see conversations start to happen, to see people find new ways to support each other in wellness. Kingdom Love Rocks! Sara McDowell & Mary Bier – Receiving on Behalf of Mayors Mental Health Initiative Presented by Laura Gomez In response to the growing local need of mental health resources, the San Mateo County Mayors Mental Health Initiative was launched in January 2022 by Redwood City Mayor Giselle Hale and San Carlos Mayor Sara McDowell. discuss mental health concerns and service gaps as part of United for Youth Wellbeing Vision 2030. Significantly, they are pioneering the Pathways Prototype's development, an innovative system designed to connect youth and families with mental health services through any entry point, emphasizing empathy and cultural competency throughout the process. The YAB is also developed a youth-centered survey and focus group design to gather perspectives for a county youth crisis stabilization center and provided crucial youth expertise to the Mobile Crisis Response Team media campaign. These young leaders are dismantling mental health stigma by centering youth voices in policy discussions and service design. Their work embodies the spirit of the Tony Hoffman Award through advocacy, innovative program creation, and compassionate support for vulnerable populations.
