

Since Day One

A mother's love is what means everything to a child. Sometimes when things go in a wrong direction, they are most needed. A bond a mother has with her kids are unbreakable. Just like my mother and I. On the day I was born, my mom had been the only one who was always there. Even though we bumped heads and went through many obstacles, she still loved me unconditionally. And for that, I am in awe of her. My mother's love and care are one of the reasons why I continually push myself to get through any obstacles that come my way. She is also one of the reasons why I am truly blessed and happy of where I'm at in life. Mama you the realest of them all.

Time

When you look at a clock it is constantly moving. Seconds, minutes, hours pass. Sooner or later that clock runs out of battery. This goes for your life. We are so busy in life that when we finally get the chance to stop, you realize how much time has passed you by. This clock represents that even though we have things that occupy our everyday lives, we always have to cherish each moment because you never know when your battery will run out.
