A Public Administrator may also be appointed when:

- Nominated by an heir or the majority of heirs to act on their stead
- Named in a will
- There is no appointed administrator or executor
- Ordered by the Court
- There are no known heirs of an estate
- Named executor fails to act

Once a Public Administrator is appointed, you can generally expect distribution after one year for small non-court estates.

What to Expect

As mandated by legal code, San Mateo County incurs a fee for taking on a case.

The San Mateo County Public Administrator team is compensated similar to other administrators and attorneys.

Fees are based on a percentage basis calculated by the value of the estate. The minimum estate fee is $1,000 for non-court cases.

- 4% of the first $100,000
- 3% of the next $100,000
- 2% of the next $800,000
- 1% of the next $9,000,000
- .5% of next $15,000,000
- Over $25,000,000 is subject to court's discretion, where a reasonable amount will be determined

The court may also award additional fees for extra work such as selling property, litigation to collect assets, and defending actions against the estate.

Fees may require court approval, typically during final accounting.
